Overview

This workshop will look at the techniques used in teaching information transfer. It will also look into the different types of strategies in teaching information transfer which focuses on the use of listening and reading skills.

Objectives

- To develop an understanding of the principles of teaching information transfer through the use of listening and reading skills.
- To identify the different approaches in teaching information transfer.
- To give the participants practice in selection and design of appropriate materials in the primary English syllabus.
- To develop the students’ skills in integrating listening and reading with speaking and writing skills.

Content

- Techniques for teaching information transfer through the use of listening and reading skills:
- Identifying content words in a text.
- Mind-mapping to gather information and comprehend their reading.
- Activities on short dialogues, dictation and following instruction.

Tasks

- Focusing and sharing problems on the difficulties in teaching information transfer.
- Micro-teach the different strategies to teach adjectives using the listening and reading skills.
- Sharing sessions on the strengths and weaknesses of these methods.

Methodology

- Workshop
- Hands-on activities

Language

English

Time

2 — 4 pm

Duration

2 hours

Venue

BDTA Training Centre

Target Participant

Lower and Upper Primary English Teachers